Frequently Asked Questions

What is the best time to visit Tanzania for a safari?

The best time for a Tanzania safari is during the dry seasons from June to October and January to March. These periods offer excellent wildlife viewing as animals gather around water sources and the weather is ideal for outdoor activities.

How long should I spend on a safari?

A typical safari lasts between 3 to 7 days, depending on the destinations you want to visit. Longer safaris allow you to explore more parks and enjoy a deeper wildlife experience.

Which national parks can I visit with Kisangara Tours?

We organize safaris to Tanzania's top destinations, including Serengeti National Park, Ngorongoro Crater, Tarangire National Park, Lake Manyara, Mount Kilimanjaro, and Zanzibar.
